

Phoenix is an autonomous CI/CD healing agent that detects test failures, parses logs, generates targeted fixes, and
The backend is implemented in FastAPI and the system is organized as a modular multi-stage pipeline with analyst,
Its goal is to reduce manual debugging effort while keeping fixes small, transparent, and auditable.